

Science Teacher

Stoneleigh-Burnham School, an independent boarding and day school for girls in grades 7-12 in Greenfield, Massachusetts, seeks an experienced, dynamic Science teacher for the 2021-2022 academic year, effective August 2021.

Stoneleigh-Burnham School, the first girls' school in New England to offer the IB Diploma Programme, is committed to excellence in teaching and holds high standards for its faculty.

Located in the Connecticut River Pioneer Valley, a short drive from the Five College Consortium (UMass Amherst, Smith, Mount Holyoke, Hampshire and Amherst College), Stoneleigh-Burnham attracts students from the local area and around the world. Our mission centers around helping girls discover and use their authentic voices. Teachers who thrive at SBS are deeply passionate about their teaching and about girls' education, are collaborative colleagues, are excited by professional growth, and are committed to fostering an inclusive community.

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Teach 4-5 science sections (Chemistry, Biology, Environmental Science; depending on skills and interest) at different levels, through IB
- Supervise co-curricular activities (e.g. coaching, clubs, community service activities, etc.)
- Other responsibilities include: chaperone or residential duty, advising students, serving on committees, and other routine duties

Qualities and Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree at minimum; Master's degree preferred
- Experience in teaching the IB curriculum is helpful, though not required
- Investment in campus life and making a positive impact on the lives of adolescents, both in and out of the classroom

- Demonstrated commitment to working in and contributing to an environment that fosters diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills
- Ability to integrate critical thinking, reading, writing, and research in curriculum and pedagogy
- Flexibility, enthusiasm, and a team spirit necessary for innovation and collaboration, especially in reviewing the Science Department curriculum and developing courses within the department
- Committed to school-wide initiatives, including on-going professional growth and development
- The desire to work in a boarding school community
